

Welcome, Prof Jon Jureidini | (Log-out here)

Provide feedback here

- Home
- Step by step
- My requests
- My account
- Approved requests
- Contact GSK

Proposal details

Title: Study 329 paroxetine
Status: Proposal Answered
Submitted: 28 Oct 2013

This proposal has been submitted. You may not change anything that has been submitted. However you may be asked to provide additional information. This can be provided using the "Provide requested information" and "Attachments" tabs below.

- Summary
- Provide requested information
- Attachments
- Email notifications

Provide requested information

This area allows you to respond to requests for additional information. You may add documents using the Attachments tab.

Comment	Response	Created	Responded
1) Given the well disclosed conflict re: legal testimony, is this really unfunded research? The research is unfunded
2) who will actually be doing the analyses here? Nardo, Abi-Jaoude, Tufanaru, Healy
3) given the biases disclosed, it would be useful from a credibility point of view, to add an independent member to the research team. No need, researchers Nardo, Tufanaru, Abi-Jaoude are all free of conflict – see original submission.		19 Nov 2013
4) if BMJ were to reject the paper, are the authors committed to submit the manuscript elsewhere, regardless of the results, as needed until it is accepted? Yes

Provide requested information

Powered by IdeasPoint, Inc.

Terms of use / Accessibility / Cookie policy / Privacy

This site is designed to be compatible with modern Internet browsers such as IE 9 or 10, Google Chrome and Mozilla Firefox. It is not optimised for use with older browsers.

© 2001-2013 GlaxoSmithKline plc. All rights reserved. Registered in England and Wales No. 3888792. Registered office: 980 Great West Road, Brentford, Middlesex, TW8 9GS, United Kingdom.