

-----Original Message-----

From: onbehalfof+vchen+bmj.com@manuscriptcentral.com [mailto:onbehalfof+vchen+bmj.com@manuscriptcentral.com] On Behalf Of vchen@bmj.com

Sent: Monday, 23 March 2015 11:47 PM

To: Jureidini, Jon (Health)

Subject: BMJ BMJ.2014.022376.R2 - checklist

23-Mar-2015

BMJ.2014.022376.R2 - Restoring Study 329: A randomised, controlled trial of the efficacy and harms of paroxetine and imipramine in the treatment of adolescent major depression

Dear Professor Jureidini

Thank you for your revised paper. In order to prepare your article for our post-acceptance process, it has undergone a general review based on The BMJ's house style for content and formatting.

From this review, we require that the items in the checklist attached are included in your manuscript (also attached) before the editors can make a final decision on your revised paper. Please make the necessary amendments to your submitted manuscript using tracked changes and email it back to me directly at vchen@bmj.com (do not resubmit it through the Scholar One system). Just for the purposes of completeness, I would also be grateful for a clean version of the manuscript, as well as the figures and web appendices in this email batch if possible.

In order to facilitate timely publication of your submitted manuscript and a final editorial decision on acceptance, we would be grateful for a revised submission within 48 hours. If your article is accepted, it will then be subedited, proofed, and - after your approval - published on bmj.com with open access.

Many thanks again. Please email me if you have any questions.

Yours sincerely

--

Vivien Chen
Technical editor (Research)

BMJ, BMA House, Tavistock Square, London, WC1H 9JR

T: 020 7383 6541

E: vchen@bmj.com

W: bmj.com/company